You gotta know, to grow... Family Engagement

Successful family engagement comes from authentic relationships where each family is valued, respected and included.

Partnerships with families leads to success

Each family may engage in different ways

Family
Engagement is not just an event

Families need equal and equitable access and opportunities

Families need to feel included and valued to be engaged

Family involvement at all decision-making levels is critical

Ask families what they need/want. They are the experts

Provide families with the information they need to be fully and meaningfully engaged

Engage with families consistently and not just when there is a problem

Families need clearly defined expectations